Sponsor Opportunities

About the Conference

The 2019 NALP Summit on Emerging Careers for Law Grads is a one-day conference designed focusing on the new employment opportunities for law school graduates that have developed quickly in the period following the recession, including jobs in compliance, legal process outsourcing, and data privacy and security, among others.

This year's Summit will provide education about how to advise students and graduates who are examining these new career opportunities and will feature innovative career services professionals and deans who have capitalized on these opportunities for their graduates, as well as recruiters and others from some of these new law grad employer organizations.

Strengthen your company's image, prestige, and credibility by becoming a sponsor of this event!
