In my role as liaison to the National LGBT Bar Association, I planned a panel and coordinated individual counseling sessions as part of the Lavender Law Conference in NYC, which took place on Friday, August 10. We had a panel of five professionals, and I served as the moderator. In addition to the below panelists, we also had Major Tia Hooper from the US Air Force JAG Corps give a brief presentation. There were about 70 attendees at the panel.

The Career Panel panelists were:

Matthew Jannusch, Assistant State's Attorney
Cook County State's Attorney's Office

Rage Kidvai, Staff Attorney
The Legal Aid Society, New York

Robert A. Major, Founding Partner
Major, Lindsey & Africa

Conception Montoya, Partner
Hinshaw & Culbertson

Fred Thrasher, Deputy Director
NALP

As to the career counseling session, we had 25 volunteer career counselors present. They conducted over 80 individual counseling appointments. We were able to accommodate every student who requested an appointment.
